Educational Leadership Doctoral Program at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi Selected as Examples of Excelencia Semi-Finalist

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas - The Educational Leadership Doctoral Program at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi has been selected by Excelencia in Education as a semi-finalist for the "2008 Examples of Excelencia" graduate level award.

The Department of Educational Administration and Research, chaired by Dr. Raul Prezas, assistant professor in the College of Education, received a letter confirming nomination earlier this month. A committee comprised of national experts will assess and select the annual Examples of Excelencia. The awards will be presented during the Celebración de Excelencia Tuesday, Sept. 23, in Houston.

Launched in 2005, the Examples of Excelencia initiative identifies and honors programs and departments at the forefront of increasing academic opportunities and improving achievement for Latino students at the associate, baccalaureate and graduate levels.

Excelencia in Education, a non-profit organization based in Washington, D.C., accelerates higher education success for Latino students by linking research, policy and practice to serve Latino students and the institutions and programs where they participate.
