Associate VP for Enrollment Management at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi Elected President of TACRAO

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Margaret Dechant, associate vice president for Enrollment Management at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, has been elected president of the Texas Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admissions Officers (TACRAO).

Dechant, a 20-year TACRAO member who last year served on the association's executive committee, began serving a one-year term Wednesday, Nov. 5. In her role as president she is chair of the executive committee and an ex-officio member of all appointed TACRAO committees. The president is also responsible for all activities within the association and for coordinating the programs and arrangements for the annual meeting.

As Texas A&M-Corpus Christi's associate vice president for Enrollment Management, Dechant oversees the offices of Admissions, Registrar, Financial Assistance, Testing, Recruitment Communications, Student Recruitment and New Student Programs, Veteran's Affairs, and the Academic Transition Center and Title V/TRIO programs.

TACRAO is a voluntary nonprofit professional education association of cooperating collegiate institutions that contributes to the advancement of higher education through the professional advancement of the office of Admissions, Records and Registration and other related university functions.
