Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi Offering Hundreds of Six-week On-line Personal Development Courses

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi is now offering hundreds of online, instructor-facilitated personal development courses that can be accessed anytime, anywhere with an Internet connection. Topics range from computer software and wireless networking to personal finance and foreign languages.

New sessions of each course start Wednesday, Oct. 15. Each course lasts six weeks, with two new lessons released weekly. The courses are entirely Web-based with comprehensive lessons, quizzes and assignments. A dedicated professional instructor facilitates every course: pacing learners, answering questions, giving feedback, and facilitating discussions. The online classroom is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, allowing students to study at their own pace.

View the course catalog and register on-line at <http://www.ed2go.com/tamucc-pro>. The registration fee for most courses is $99. For additional information contact Carole Peterson, director of Workforce Development, 361.825.5966 or carole.peterson@tamucc.edu.
