MEDIA ALERT
DATE: January 26, 2009
CONTACT: Julee Murphy 361.825.2812; or Cassandra Hinojosa 361.825.2337

PHOTO/MEDIA OPPORTUNITY***********************

WHO: Children’s Author Cathy Travis and Students of the Early Childhood Development Center

WHAT: Book Talk on “Constitution Translated for Kids”

WHEN: Tuesday, Jan. 27, beginning at 9 a.m.

WHERE: Early Childhood Development Center Library, Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi

Children’s Author Discusses the U.S. Constitution with Students of the Early Childhood Development Center

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Children’s author Cathy Travis will give a talk on her book “Constitution Translated for Kids” to around 100 elementary school students and parents Tuesday, Jan. 27, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Early Childhood Development Center library at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi.

Travis, who worked on Capitol Hill for 25 years as a communications director, senior advisor and political consultant, will speak to second, third and fourth graders about the U. S. Constitution. Travis will give a 15-minute presentation, followed by a question and answer session.

“Constitution Translated for Kids,” written at the fifth grade level, is a simple translation of the entire U.S. Constitution.

-A&M-CC-