Texas A&M-Corpus Christi University Theatre Director Terry Lewis Named KCACTF Region VI Faculty Fellow Lewis will be honored at national convention in Washington, D.C., in April

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Dr. Terry Lewis, director of University Theatre at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, has been selected as The Kennedy Center American College Theater Festival (KCACTF) Faculty Fellow for Region VI. He will be honored during the KCACTF national festival to be held April 13-18 in Washington, D.C.

The national theater program encourages, recognizes and celebrates the finest and most diverse work produced in university and college theater programs. KCACTF involves approximately 18,000 students from colleges and universities nationwide and includes more than 600 academic institutions and eight geographic regions throughout the country. Region VI includes college and universities from Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Texas and Missouri.

During the national festival, Lewis will work in seminars and workshops with Ming Cho Lee, co-chair of the design department at the Yale University School of Drama, and John Dillon, associate director of Tokyo's Institute of Dramatic Arts, where his productions twice won Japan's highest theatre award.
