‘First-Year Islanders Student Rally’ Celebrates New Program

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS – Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi students will participate in a campus-wide “First-Year Islanders Student Rally” on Tuesday, March 2, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the University Center, east lawn.

Texas A&M-Corpus Christi has launched the bold new program that engages faculty to ensure that freshmen have a successful transition from high school to college. The First-Year Islanders (FYI) Program was born from the University’s desire to create a best-in-class quality enhancement plan that supports the academic strengths within the University’s mission.

Hot dogs, chips, ice cream and sodas will be served and FYI T-shirts and water bottles will be handed out first come, first served. For more information, go to http://fyi.tamucc.edu/.
