Texas A&M-Corpus Christi Utilizes Transfer 101 Web Portal

Portal provides information to students seeking transfer to a four-year university

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas - Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi is among the Texas colleges and universities utilizing Transfer 101, a Web portal that provides students with information on how to transfer from a community college to a four-year university.

The program was created by The University of Texas System in partnership with The Texas A&M University System and the Texas Association of Community Colleges. The portal, which is gaining popularity among students, is exceeding 3,000 hits per month.

Statistics show that students who transfer from a community college to a university graduate at higher rates than first-time, full-time freshman. Transfer 101 provides students with easy access to the information and tools they need to make the transition to a senior institution.

The Web portal, which has a presence on Facebook and Twitter, provides checklists, timelines, student success stories, and direct links to university transfer pages and advisors. The program also features an icon link on the homepages of all Texas community colleges. For more information, go to <http://transfer101.org/>.
