Student Groups and Organizations Compete for Cash Prizes during Texas A&M-Corpus Christi’s ‘Islander Revue’ Song and Dance Show

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Nine student groups and organizations will perform music and dance routines ranging from stomp to hip-hop during the 11th annual “Islander Revue” to be held tonight (Friday, Oct. 15) from 7-9:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Center at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi.

Student groups and organizations competing for $2,500 in cash prizes include Alpha Epsilon Delta, Delta Chi, Resident Advisors, Alpha Gamma Delta, Campus Activities Board, Honors Student Association, Phi Delta Theta, Zeta Tau Alpha and Gamma Phi Beta. Contestants will be judged on musical quality, creativity, choreography and entertainment value. There will also be special performances by the Middle Eastern Dance Club and the Islander Dance Team.

“Islander Revue” is presented by the University’s Student Foundation and sponsored by Whataburger. Proceeds will fund student scholarships.
