Office of Community Outreach at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi
To Offer GRE, GMAT and LSAT Preparation Courses in College Station

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – The Office of Community Outreach at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi will offer Test Preparation in College Station, Texas, beginning in September to prepare students for the GRE, GMAT and LSAT exams.

The courses to be offered in College Station are the same courses that have helped students prepare for the exams at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi. Standardized test scores on exams such as the GRE, GMAT, and LSAT are a major component of the graduate school application process, and this new program will assist students in completing the exams with success. Preparation programs for each test will cover the skills and tools needed to succeed on these important exams.

The Texas A&M-Corpus Christi test preparation courses are designed by a team of exam question writers and test preparation experts. Experienced and expert instructors will provide the comprehensive program in an easy to follow format. The courses include comprehensive classroom instruction, preparation materials, practice test opportunities, computer-adaptive software, and access to the instructors beyond the classroom experience.

The courses were developed by Educational Testing Consultants, which focuses on helping colleges and universities prepare students for success on entrance exams. Dr. Stephen Harris and Steven Shotts, co-founders of Educational Testing Consultants, have more than 30 years of experience working with standardized tests, including writing actual test items for a variety of standardized tests.
The GRE (Graduate Record Examination), which is a requirement for admission to many graduate schools, measures verbal reasoning, quantitative reasoning, critical thinking, and analytical writing skills not related to any specific field of study. The GRE preparation class will be offered from 1-5 p.m. on Sundays from September 18 through October 23. (24 hours) The cost is $799.

The GMAT (Graduate Management Admissions Test) is used by many business schools throughout the world to help evaluate applicants. The GMAT preparation course, which is designed to improve the applicant’s test scores and increase their chances of admission to graduate school, will be offered from 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays from September 17 through October 22. (24 hours) The cost is $899.

The LSAT, which is administered by the Law School Admission Council, assesses reading comprehension, and logical and verbal reasoning. All law schools accredited by the American Bar Association require the LSAT as part of their admissions process. There are two LSAT sessions. The first LSAT preparation course will be offered on three weekends, September 10-11, 17-18, and 24-25. Times are 8 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. on Saturdays and 1-6 p.m. on Sundays. The second session will be offered from 1-6 p.m. on Sundays from October 16 through November 20 (30 hours). The cost is $899.
