Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi to Hold Dedication
For Thomas J. Henry Tennis Center on Momentum Campus

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi will hold a dedication ceremony for the new Thomas J. Henry Tennis Center on Tuesday, June 14, at 10 a.m. on the Momentum Campus near the Nile Drive and Ennis Joslin Road intersection.

The $2.4 million center was made possible in part by a $500,000 gift from Corpus Christi attorney Thomas J. Henry. The complex includes 12 tennis courts built to NCAA specifications with the top-of-the-line Musco lighting system, an exterior public address system, security fence and a 220-car parking lot.

Henry is a long-time supporter of the Islanders’ athletic programs which competed as an independent from 1998 until the University joined the Southland Conference in 2006.
