World Affairs Council of South Texas Holds Special Luncheon to Discuss Life in Libya during the Height of its Turmoil

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Steve Raymond, business development manager for Halliburton in Libya, Africa, will speak on "Libya: What It Was Really Like Over There” during the World Affairs Council of South Texas special luncheon on Wednesday, March 30, at 11:30 a.m. at the Congressman Solomon P. Ortiz International Center, 402 Harbor Drive.

Raymond will discuss his experience in Libya while the country was in turmoil at the height of the protests. He will also discuss doing business in North Africa, the Middle East, and Latin America.

Raymond has worked for Halliburton, one of the world’s largest providers of products and services to the oil and gas industry, for more than 20 years. He started his career in the directional drilling industry in Oklahoma City, Okla. with a primary focus on horizontal drilling applications.
