Article Written by Two Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi Professors Selected Best in Five Years by PRTE Publication

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – An article co-written by two Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi professors has been named as the “Favorite Article” in the last five years to appear in the “Reading Professor,” a referred journal sponsored by the Professors of Reading Teacher Educators (PRTE).

“A Survey of Reading Professors to Determine Seminal Works in Reading Comprehension” by Dr. Dan Pearce, chair of the Department of Curriculum and Instruction, and Dr. Norma Zunker, assistant professor in the Department of Teacher Education, was selected by members of the publication’s editorial review board and authors of articles published from winter 2006 through summer 2010. The article was included in the winter 2009 issue.

The Professors of Reading Teacher Educators is a special interest group of the International Reading Association that is composed of reading professors. Pearce and Zunker’s work was recognized in May during the association’s annual conference in Orlando, Fla.
