Annual Conference for the Society of Educators and Scholars Will Focus on Ethical Leadership for a Global Perspective
Speakers will include Texas A&M-Corpus Christi President Flavius Killebrew

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – More than 100 delegates representing colleges, universities, and other institutions across the United States will attend the 34th annual Conference for the Society of Educators and Scholars from Thursday, Oct. 13, through Saturday, Oct. 15, at the Holiday Inn Emerald Beach, 1102 S. Shoreline Blvd.

The theme for this year’s event co-hosted by Collaborative Educational Programs for the Americas (CEPA) and Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi is “Ethical Leadership for a Global Perspective.” Speakers will include Dr. Flavius Killebrew, president of Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, State Rep. Connie Scott, and Lt. Gen. Donald Campbell Jr., commanding general, III Corps at Fort Hood in Killeen, Texas.

During the conference, participants will discuss developing a model for education reform, mentoring and investing in future leaders, promoting academic excellence and world leadership, and making Texas A&M-Corpus Christi and the City of Corpus Christi a focal point of developing leadership from a global perspective.
