Campus Community Makes Giant Human Ribbon to Highlight Breast Cancer Awareness Month at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Around 200 students, faculty, and staff at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi dressed in “the universal color of love” for the fifth annual campus ‘Go Pink!’ group photo today (Wednesday, Oct. 5), on the University Center, east lawn.

The photo, a project of the University’s Women’s Center for Education and Service, is part of “Paint the Island Pink Week” at the Island University. It also marks the beginning of “Breast Cancer Awareness Month,” an international health campaign to increase awareness of the disease and to raise funds for research into its causes, prevention, diagnosis, treatment, and cure.
