Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi President Flavius Killebrew Elected to Three-Year Term on SACS Commission on Colleges

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi President Flavius

Killebrew has been elected to serve as a member on the board of trustees of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges. Killebrew's three-year term will run through Dec. 31, 2014.

As a trustee, Killebrew is one of a 77-member body elected to represent approximately 800 institutions that are members of the Commission on Colleges. It is the board's responsibility to determine commission policy, review and make decisions regarding the accreditation of higher education institutions in the Southeast, and forward proposed modifications of accreditation standards to the membership for a final vote.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges is the regional body for the accreditation of degree-granting higher education institutions in the Southern states. It serves as the common denominator of shared values and practices among the diverse institutions in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Latin America and other international sites approved by the Commission on Colleges that award associate, baccalaureate, master's, or doctoral degrees.
