Texas A&M-Corpus Christi Professor Karen Middleton Awarded Fulbright Scholar Grant to Lecture at University in Taiwan

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – Dr. Karen L. Middleton, professor of management at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholar grant to lecture at Yuan Ze University in Taipei, Taiwan during the 2009-2010 academic year.

While at Yuan Ze University, Middleton will serve as visiting professor of management. She is also listed on the National Science Council of Taiwan’s database as a visiting researcher. Middleton is one of approximately 1,100 U.S. faculty and professionals who will travel abroad during 2009-2010 through the Fulbright U.S. Scholar Program.

Dr. Middleton holds a BME from Bradley University, an MBA from the University of Texas at San Antonio, and a Ph.D. from the University of Houston-University Park. Her professional experience includes consulting, teaching, and research in organizational behavior, leadership, and strategic management and business policy in the United States and Asia. She has lived in Singapore and worked in Singapore, Malaysia, Hong Kong, England, and China. She is the daughter of the late Dr. Kenneth B. and Mrs. M. Jane Middleton, formerly of Manito, Ill.

The Fulbright Fellowships were established in 1946 through the efforts of the late Arkansas Sen. J. William Fulbright, the longest-serving chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. Today, Fulbright is the most widely recognized and prestigious international exchange program in the world. The program works with universities, schools, bi-national Fulbright commissions, government agencies, nongovernmental organizations and the private sector to seek out individuals of achievement and potential who represent the full diversity of their respective societies.
