TUITION - FOR EXCESSIVE UNDERGRADUATE HOURS

The State of Texas will not provide funds to state institutions of higher education for excess semester credit hours earned by a resident undergraduate student. Therefore, as permitted by state law, the University will charge additional tuition to students who exceed the semester credit hour limit for their programs. The additional charge is per semester credit hour and may be billed to any student that meets these applicable rules. The tuition rate will not exceed the rate charged to nonresident undergraduate students. Excess semester credit hours are those which accrue after the student exceeds by 30 hours, the number of semester credit hours required for the completion of the degree program in which the student is enrolled. Thus, the student may accumulate up to 30 hours beyond those required for the chosen degree program and not exceed the limitation. The limitation on excess credit hours applies only to those undergraduate students who first enter higher education in fall 1999 or later. The semester credit hours counted toward the limitation includes all hours attempted by the student except:

- semester credit hours earned by the student before receiving a baccalaureate degree that previously has been awarded to the student,
- semester credit hours earned by the student by examination or under any other procedure by which credit is earned without registering for a course for which tuition is charged,
- credit for a remedial education course, a technical course, a workforce education course funded according to contact hours, or another course that does not count toward a degree program at the institution, and
- semester credit hours earned by the student at a private institution or an out-of-state institution.
