

TAMUS Risk Management
International Travel to Extreme Risk Countries
Current Requirements

- If a single traveler is proposing a single trip to an extreme risk country, an International Travel Questionnaire for Extreme Risk Countries form should be completed and sent to System Risk Management for review prior to the trip.
- Future goal or intent of TAMUS Risk Management is for this form to be completed for a project waiver. However, at any time a single traveler is traveling to a high or extreme risk country, a questionnaire is still required prior to travel.
- It is TAMUS Risk Managements intent to assist in the cost/benefit analysis of the risks associated with these extreme risk countries trips and make recommendations to consider prior to taking trip or during trip.
- Travel to extreme risk countries may be approved if recommendations by TAMUS Risk Management are implemented and will raise the level of safety to an acceptable level.
- If after questionnaire is reviewed by TAMUS Risk Management and they do not believe adequate measures can be utilized to elevate safety to an acceptable level – both parties will need to talk to determine outcome.
