Background History Disclosure

Texas A&M University – Corpus Christi expressly discloses the following:

1. As a provider of teacher education programs, Texas A&M – Corpus Christi (TAMU-CC) must ensure its students demonstrate adherence to the Code of Ethics and Standard Practices for Texas Educators, which requires the observance of federal and state law. An arrest, indictment, conviction, and/or deferred adjudication may result in a student being dismissed from the program.
2. While Texas A&M University – Corpus Christi does not perform criminal history background checks, Texas public schools are permitted by state law to conduct criminal history background checks on a person intended for hire or a person who has requested a volunteer position. As a participant in field experiences or student teaching in a Texas public school, you are subject to a criminal history background check.
3. While Texas A&M University – Corpus Christi does not perform criminal history background checks, the Texas State Board for Educator Certification requests information regarding any previous arrest, indictment, conviction, and/or deferred adjudication. When applying for state certification, you will be subject to a criminal history background check by the State Board for Educator Certification. An applicant with a criminal history may be denied certification.
4. If a candidate has had any previous arrest, indictment, conviction, and/or deferred adjudication, then the candidate has the right to request a Preliminary Criminal History Evaluation (PCHE) from TEA. The findings of TEA's Preliminary Criminal History Evaluation (PCHE) request does not assure that certification will be granted. Candidates must receive criminal history background check clearance upon submission of certification application after graduation.
