SNA Guest Speaker
The College of Nursing and Health Sciences Student Nursing Association played host to Sister Maria Monahan, BSN. Maria spoke to Islander nursing students about her experiences as a medical missionary for 26 years in Amazonas, Brazil providing a glimpse of what health care is like where scarce healthcare resources are common.

Simulation and Clinical Learning Center CPR Update
CPR classes for all incoming BSN students began last week and will run through the month of September. The Sim Lab would like to send a big thank you to the faculty that assist us with these classes: Sandy Stokes, Amy McClure, Cathy Harrel, Norma Vela, Petra Martinez, Karen LaNasa, Pam Ortiz, and Angie Guerrero.

The TAMU-CC College of Nursing and Health Sciences team led by Dr. Katelijne Acker was selected for the Texas Competency-Based Education (CBE) Design Collaboratory. Our team was one on 10 Texas-based, four-year institutions, that have been selected to join the Collaboratory. The Texas CBE Design Collaboratory is a structured community of practice that will assist institutions to realize the potential of competency-based education by building institutional capacity to create new programs, removing barriers often present in the design and implementation phases, and growing demand for CBE learners with employer and industry leaders.

Congratulations! You’ve been selected for the Texas CBE Design Collaboratory
Together, we can expand educational horizons for Texas students.
