CONHS TEAMWORK FOR MED SURGE STUDENTS SUCCESS

Thank you to our SCLC team, Karen Lanasa, and her clinical faculty (Eloisa Beltran, Millie Hillis, and Anna Haga), for stepping up this past week. Upon hearing the news of their off-campus clinical site becoming unavailable for the week, each of you stepped into action to make sure our CONHS Med-Surg students were able to complete their clinical objectives. Providing simulations and IV skills stations enabled our students to be in the SCLC lab both Thursday and Friday. Students were very appreciative to have the opportunity for hands-on learning and to be able to meet their objectives.

CONHS FACULTY HIGHLIGHTS

Well Done!

Congratulations to our CONHS Assistant Professor, Dr. Danielle Durant.

Dr. Danielle Durant's accomplishment collaborators are the Infection Prevention & Control Department at Driscoll Children's Hospital – Nancy Fallwell, Lesley Martinez and Amy Gonzalez, in combination with Durant's research partner, Claudia Guerrazzi Young.

This project was very successful. Dr. Durant will have the opportunity to share the experience with other Infection Control and Epidemiology professionals at APIC in June 2022, as well as publish the results soon.

ACCEPTED!

POSTER
PRESENTATION

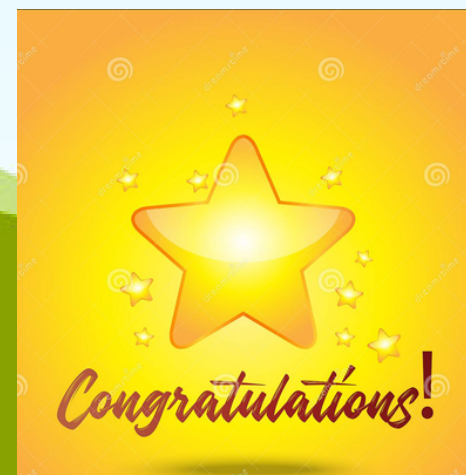

Dr. Danielle Durant, Assistant Professor of Health Sciences, collaborated with the Infection Prevention and Control Department at Driscoll Children's Hospital - Nancy Fallwell (Director), Lesley Martinez (Infection Preventionist), Amy Gonzalez (Logistics Specialist) - to write up their recent quality improvement project for presentation at the Association for Professionals in Infection Control & Epidemiology (APIC) 2022 conference.
