AWARDS/ACHIEVEMENTS

SEAS Rising Tide Recognition

Congratulations Ashley for a well-deserved recognition. She was recognized for her service excellence at the Rising Tide program. The program celebrates the outstanding people who focus on Service Excellence for our Islander Community.
Student Nurses Association and Health Science Association members decorated trees for the Academic Forest, part of the 16th Annual Islander Lights Festival on Friday, November 18. Our students did an amazing job showcasing their creativity and imagination, and representing the College of Nursing and Health Sciences, with the nursing tree winning 2nd place and the Health Sciences tree winning 3rd place. The trees will remain on display in the University Center Tejas Lounge until December 15.

Congratulations to the Student Nurses Association, winner of the 2022 Islander Lights Holiday Craft Village table. To view full gallery, please click link below: https://photos.tamucc.edu/Events/Events-By-Year/2022/111822-Islander-Lights/
On Saturday, November 19, 2022, HSA held its end-of-the-semester banquet to celebrate the outstanding efforts of its members. Throughout the ceremony, awards were presented to members, faculty, and staff for their various contributions and accomplishments. Stoles were given to graduating seniors and the newest members of the Upsilon Phi Delta Society, a nationally recognized academic honor society for students in healthcare administration, were inducted.
Pediatric simulations have concluded for the semester. The students were led by Assistant Clinical Professor, Teresa Ercan and were eager to participate in an unfolding simulation.

The final OB simulation of the Fall 2022 semester was completed last week. Students were enthusiastic about participating in a postpartum hemorrhage simulation and a post-op blood transfusion scenario.

Please join us on Tuesday, November 29th in a brief departure from blue to purple to raise awareness about prematurity.

EVERY FAMILY DESERVES THE BEST POSSIBLE START.
Prematurity affects too many moms and babies and is significantly fueled by the health equity gap in our healthcare system, communities, and institutions. Throughout November, Prematurity Awareness Month (COMPANY NAME) is raising awareness and funds to fight for fuller prepreancies for every mom and baby.

AWARENESS ACTIVITY
If you can wear it, make it purp! Tell employees to wear purple to raise awareness, and to have their friends and family get in on the action, too.
Post messages on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and/or—be sure to tag March of Dimes and use #PrematurityAwarenessMonth and #WorldPrematurityDay in your posts!

FUNDRAISING ACTIVITY
Encourage employees to donate in honor of World Prematurity Day, November 17, to support lifesaving research and community-based programs to improve the health of every mom and baby.

MATERNAL AND INFANT HEALTH WEEK
Our week of action and advocacy is a time to fight prematurity and improve outcomes for all families.
- November 15: March of Dimes Report Card announcement and agenda delivery daily—keep an eye on our social media channels.
- November 17: World Prematurity Day, and Healthy Moms, Strong Babies webinar. (And tune in.)
- November 19: National Volunteer Day—visit marchofdimes.org to find out how you can help provide meals that matter to families in need.

MEMORANDUM
TO: All University Faculty, Staff, and Retirees
SUBJECT: Tamalada Social

It is with my deepest appreciation for your hard work over the last year that I invite you to attend the annual Tamalada Social on Friday, December 2, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the University Center Anchor Ballrooms.

In addition to lunch, there will be great entertainment, music, and prizes! The ugly sweater competition is back, so be sure to deck the halls with your most creative, terribly ugly sweaters for a chance to win ugly, uglier, and ugliest place!

Administrators are encouraged to make necessary arrangements so that all faculty and staff have the opportunity to join in the festivities. The full lunch fiesta, featuring delicious tamales with all the fixings, sides, chips and salsa, and decadent desserts should be enjoyed at the event with colleagues and friends.

I, along with all members of President’s Cabinet, wish you great health and happiness during the remainder of the semester and over the much-deserved winter break. Thank you for your continued commitment to every student’s success!

With best regards,

Dr. Kelly M. Miller, Ph.D.
