About the TEAS

Nursing applicants register for the ATI TEAS (Test of Essential Academic Skills) through ATI, the company that administers the exam. The TEAS covers reading, math, science, and English and language usage.

Two TAMU-CC College of Nursing and Health Sciences policies to know before you register:

- No cap on attempts. There is currently no limit on how many times you may take the TEAS.
- Scores are valid for two years. Results expire two years after the date on your ATI transcript.

Choose Your Proctoring Option

You may use any of the proctoring options. TAMU-CC does not offer TEAS proctoring on campus, so you will test at home or at an outside site.

Option	Where you test	What to know
ATI remote proctor	At home, on your own computer, proctored online by ATI	Needs a quiet, private space and a computer that meets ATI's technical requirements
PSI test center	In person at a PSI testing center. You choose by location, day and time	Review and follow PSI's testing-center guidelines
Institution or testing center	At another institution or testing center that offers the TEAS, either live or remote	Dates and format are set by the host site; confirm it accepts outside test takers

How to Register

1. Go to atitesting.com/teas/register and select Register Now.
2. Log in to your ATI account. If this is your first time, select Create an Account, enter your information, and complete the security questions.
3. Choose how you will take the exam: remote proctored by ATI, through an institution or testing center, or in person at a PSI center.
4. In the ATI online store, open the TEAS tab and select the Nursing program type (for example, ATI Remote Proctor – Nursing). Do not select Allied Health.
5. Pick your test date and time, or your PSI or institution site.
6. Pay the exam fee to ATI at checkout.
7. Watch your email for the confirmation from ATI, and keep it until you have tested.

Before Test Day

- Review the instructions in your ATI confirmation email and on your ATI account.
- Remote testers: complete the system check ("dry run") in your ATI account before exam day, and confirm your computer meets the ATI technical requirements.
- Remote testers: set up a quiet, private space where you will not be interrupted.
- PSI testers: review the PSI guidelines for your site, and know the location and parking before you go.
- Have the identification your proctoring option requires, and arrive or log in early.

After the Exam

- Retakes: you may retest as many times as you like. Register again using the steps above.
- Expiration: your results expire two years after the date on your ATI transcript. Check that date before you apply.
- Sending scores: send your official ATI TEAS transcript with your nursing application (NursingCAS.org), following the instructions in the application.

Questions?

- Registration, payment or technical problems: contact ATI through atitesting.com.
- Admission questions: email the College of Nursing and Health Sciences at conhs@tamucc.edu